TRICKLE HERE FOR RED MEN'S FETE

EXECUTIVE WILL WITNESS MASQUE TO SPEAK TWICE

Will View Children's Parade and Speak From Bandstand at Schoolfield—Addresses Tribesmen at Schoolfield "Y" at Night.

Governor E. Lee Trinkle of Virginia arrived in Danville early this afternoon to be the guest of the Red Men of this community who tonight will celebrate the recent elevation of Dr. Garnett W. Johnson as Great Sachem of the Virginia tribes. With the commissioner of labor, L. W. Wells, an official of the State Red Men and E. R. Cole of Richmond, past Great Sachem of the Virginia Red Men and who is now succeeded by the Danville physician.

Three members of the governor's staff also are here. T. A. Webb of South Boston, E. J. Saunders of Roanoke, and Col. Edwin S. Reid of Chatham.

The governor will have a busy programme while here. This afternoon he is to speak to the children of the school at the close of a parade, which he will review from the bandstand. During the late evening he will be the guest of honor at dinner at the station by the local tribes and at night he will speak on "Fraternalism and What It Means to the Community" in the auditorium of the Schoolfield. Governor Trinkle is himself a Red Man being a member of the Iroquois Tribe in Richmond and will thus enter the festivities of the evening with a full spirit of understanding.

The governor and his party arrived on the Richmond train arriving here shortly after 1:30 o'clock and were met at the station by a welcoming committee of fifteen men of which Frank Talbot was the chairman and which included Mayor Harry Wooding and a number of the local tribes. The party moved in cars uptown to the Burton Hotel where the governor was entertained at dinner. After dinner at three o'clock and from that point was to witness the parade of the schoolchildren who are to sing for the governor and who during the afternoon and evening sessions are given in this issue elsewhere. One of the features of this afternoon's programme will be the health exercises. "The Conflict" which has been given by Schoolfield children and the Welfare Department last Saturday at the annual May Day exercises. The event was postponed, however, on account of the fact that the governor would be here this afternoon and it will be held this afternoon half past four o'clock. The governor's address, which will include some 500 costumed figures will be in front of the spectators from the small view of the parade and up that leading to the mill office during the time of its first visit paid to Danville by the governor for several months and while here the state executive will greet a number of old friends. He plans to return to the state capital tonight.

Two Negroes Are Lynched Following Attack On Girls

(By The Associated Press.)
FORT MYERS, Fla., May 26.—"Bubbers" Wilson and "Bubbers" Williams, negro youths of about 20 years of age, were hanged today following identification of the negroes who late yesterday attacked two young white girls near here.

Wilson was taken from the sheriff shortly after he was taken into custody. Williams was pulled off a northbound freight train. They were killed with bullets and daggers through the streets by the mob.

The two girls are reported to be in a serious condition.

PRESBYTERIANS PLEDGE TO OUTLAW CONFLICTS

(By The Associated Press.)
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 26.—The Presbyterian General Assembly unanimously adopted a resolution pledging itself "to the outlawing of war and to the hastening of the day when nations shall learn to war no more."

The resolution was adopted after efforts to amend it to provide an agency to crystallize the peace sentiment had been beaten. An amendment to insert in the resolution a sentence dedicating "the full support of the members of the church to a national should the country become involved in war" was overwhelmingly defeated.

The resolution set forth that the church "refuses to believe that the wholesale slaughter of human beings is morally necessary to man's highest development or that the killing is the individual."

It sets in war a definite challenge to the followers of the "prince of peace" and invites the cooperation of all Christians in a determined effort to devise such machinery for peace as will insure settlement of all international controversies by reason instead of force.

IMMIGRATION BILL BECOMES LAW MEASURE WAS SIGNED TODAY BY PRESIDENT

SCHOOL FINALS HOLD CENTER OF STAGE NOW

Commencement Exercises Chief Attractions For Next Few Days.

Commencement and graduation exercises in Danville during the early part of this week will temporarily eclipse all forms of other community activity. This year the closing of the public school and the college years comes simultaneously and from now until Wednesday there will be a round of activity ushering out another school year with its large number of young men and young women brought to the brink of life's realities.

Yesterday three churches of Danville words of wisdom good advice and encouragement were given to three graduating classes. Dr. William J. Young, a former pastor of Main street church, now of Emory University, addressed the girl graduates of Randolph Macon College clad in white and probably none too comfortable in the peculiar light of late May Day. Dr. Sparks W. Melton of Norfolk preached the commencement sermon to the girl graduates of Averett College at the First Baptist church painting them a rosy picture of the world and letting them despite its many vicissitudes it is a good place in which to live. At Mount Vernon Methodist church Rev. Samuel T. Senter, pastor, preached an earnest and helpful sermon to the High school graduating class of more than fifty, all wearing caps and gowns. The congregation was exceptionally large and the parents of the boys and girls generally attended this impressive service.

The Danville Military Institute commencement will not begin until next Sunday.

The High school Senior class will tonight give its annual play, a comedy, "Come Out of the Kitchen" which will be staged at the Majestic theatre. Tomorrow night the graduating exercises of the High school will be held at eight o'clock in the Majestic theatre. Dr. A. B. Chandler of the State Teachers' College at Fredericksburg will make the address and the diploma will be awarded by Mrs. A. D. Keen, chairman of the city school board. Scholarships probably will be announced at that time.

The elementary schools will have no set exercises this year. The children will go to school tomorrow and will assemble on the playground for a brief of exercises at which time they will be given their promotion cards also their health certificates whereupon the school year will come to a close.

On Wednesday morning at half past ten o'clock all of the children promoted from the elementary schools to the high school will assemble in the auditorium of the high school and will be greeted by the retiring class.

DANVILLE WOMAN WILL PRESIDE AT CONVENTION

Danville will be well represented at Alexandria tomorrow when the annual convention of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty, the woman's auxiliary of the Improved Order of Red Men, will open its sessions which will last Wednesday.

This city which was honored last week when the Red Men gathered there in annual convention and when Dr. Garnett W. Johnson was elected Great Sachem of Virginia will be in the limelight again tomorrow when a Danville woman, Mrs. Ethel Kate Hardister, will preside at the convention. She was last year elected State Councillor at the Newport News convention this being the highest office in the Sons and Daughters of Liberty. Mr. and Mrs. Hardister are leaving Danville today for Alexandria to be on hand for the opening tomorrow. Others who will attend from this city are Mrs. and Mrs. Chatterly Terry, Mrs. Charles Alverson and R. M. Fox.

Mrs. Hardister has long been interested in the welfare of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty and her administration of the office of State Councillor is spoken of highly by members of the organization. It is largely through her work that the membership during the past year has been increased by 457 members this being the largest gain made in twenty years and the first actual increase in five years. Mrs. Hardister is a member of With Bagley Council No. 10 North Danville, and has throughout the past year watered May lodges throughout the state. She is an employee of the Riverside and Dan

Democratic Mass Meeting Tomorrow at Municipal Hall

Tomorrow night, at eight o'clock, in the Municipal Hall, the City Democratic mass-meeting will be held, at which time thirteen delegates will be elected to the State Democratic Convention to be held next month at Norfolk. The city Democratic executive committee met several days ago and set tomorrow as the date on which the mass-meeting should be held.

William Hundley Hurt In Car Crash On Reidsville Road

William M. Hundley, editor of "Progress," a weekly publication published by the textile organization at Schoolfield, was painfully injured Sunday morning at eight o'clock in an automobile accident which took place between Reidsville and Danville. The car in which he was driving to Leesville with Charlie Craven, a local hatter, was struck by a machine and its pilot, was in head-on collision with one driven by Mrs. J. L. Harvey, of Colquhoun street, just as Mrs. Hundley was about to pass a motor vehicle which a small house had been roared and which was occupied apparently by campers. The impact resulted in Mr. Hundley being hurled against the door jam when he sustained an ugly scalp wound, then as the door flew open he was precipitated out, his head striking the concrete road. The Danville man was found to be unconscious so he was placed in a passing car and hastened to Reidsville where Dr. McGhee attended him. He remained irrational for about two hours, and later in the evening was brought back to Danville in a hospital car, being taken to the home of his niece, Mrs. Guy Shuff, on Mount Vernon avenue where this afternoon he was reported to be somewhat better. The actual injuries sustained have not been determined as Mr. Hundley is too bruised and shocked to withstand a protracted medical examination. The belief was expressed, however, that he has no broken bones, but is suffering chiefly from shock and strained muscles. Mr. Craven sustained two slight cuts in the back while Mr. Jackson, who was in the wheel, was uninjured. With Mrs. Harvey in her Maxwell car was her husband and several lady friends, none of whom was injured.

The accident is described as having occurred shortly after five o'clock. The slow-moving tourist wagon was so built that the vision of the car containing the three Danville men was obscured until they had cleared. Just as Mrs. Harvey started to pass the machine the other car loomed up. In a desperate effort to put on the brakes, it seems, Mrs. Hundley's foot slipped to the accelerator and this gave the car great impetus at the moment of the impact. The front part of Mr. Jackson's Chevrolet was practically demolished and severe damage was done to the Maxwell car.

Hoffman's Alibi Is Shattered at His Trial Today

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 26.—James F. Taylor, manager of a motion picture theatre at Stapleton, Staten Island, contributed today to the testimony designated by the state to shatter the alibi of Harry Hoffman, former employee of the theatre, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Maude Bauer. Taylor asserted that he did not see Hoffman at the theatre at any time on March 25, the day of the crime.

R. C. Parker, another movie operator, testified Saturday that he and Hoffman "framed up" the alibi which had placed the defendant in the theatre at the time of the murder.

Robert Ferguson testified that at about the hour of the crime he was talking to a wood-chopper 500 feet from the spot where Mrs. Bauer's body was found. He said he saw a man in a brown overcoat and brown hat wearing tortoise shell glasses, speed by in a sedan. Ferguson was not asked to identify Hoffman, although the prosecution pointed out that Hoffman answered the description.

District Attorney Pach said he expected to conclude the states case tomorrow after calling 29 more witnesses.

Mrs. R. J. Fank, of Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gossard, of Spartanburg, S. C., are spending a few days with their brother, R. B. Harris, 34 Baltimore avenue.

Miss Wilson is representing the Danville Health Department in Roanoke and will attend the sessions of the Public Health group.

Street car No. 37 on the Depot service line was derailed on Sunday evening at seven o'clock at the corner of Patton and Craghead streets. The car had just emerged from the street of Craghead street now being improved when the car left the rails and swung across the street. Motorman C. Chatterly, who, with Conductor W. C. Barker, had charge of the car applied the brakes promptly and halted it before it struck the sidewalk. About ten passengers were on the car and the accident happened so swiftly that no one had time to be alarmed. A call was sent to the barns for a repairing crew and the street was again in service within fifteen minutes.

Affixed Signature Although Opposed to Provision Making Japanese Exclusion Effective July 1—Reasons For Not Vetoing Bill.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The immigration bill was signed today by President Coolidge. Despite the provision making Japanese exclusion effective next July 1, but into the measure over his vigorous opposition, the President decided, because of other considerations, to give the executive approval necessary to spread the legislation on the statute books.

It was pointed out that (asmuch as the present immigration law expires on June 30 a veto might have made it necessary to rush through an emergency measure in the closing hours of the session.)

Such a step the President felt, would not be practicable in view of the tangled legislative process and the certainty of any emergency provision would be best by many attempts at amendment and possibly blocked altogether.

As soon as he had affixed his signature to the bill, the President began preparation of a statement expressing his disapproval of the failure of Congress to provide for a longer delay in the effective date of Japanese exclusion.

The bill contains a number of provisions which were the basis of stubborn contests when the legislation first was under consideration in the Senate and House. One question long in dispute was the method of determining national quotas which under the measure as finally passed are reduced at two per cent on the basis of the 1930 census.

This and all other disagreements over the bill's provisions have been subordinated to the Japanese exclusion. Ambassador Hanihara on April 11 sent a note to the State Department suggesting that the possibility of "grave consequences" be considered before a vote against the Japanese. The note was characterized in both Senate and House as a veiled threat, and both reaffirmed quickly and by overwhelming majorities their desire for exclusion.

The House passed the bill 322 to 71 and the Senate 62 to 6. Under the House measure, July 1 of this year, but the Senate voted to make it effective immediately. While the legislation was in conference the president appealed directly to the Senate to vote in postponement until March 1, 1936, so as to permit negotiation of an agreement with Japan, but the conference committee revised to make it effective immediately. Subsequent to the vote on the bill, the president declared he approved of it without hesitation.

Largest Artillery Demonstration to Be Held Today

(By The Associated Press.)
LAWTON, Okla., May 26.—Members of the National Editorial Association and hundreds of other visitors are here today to witness at Fort Sill what promises to be the largest peacetime artillery demonstration in the history of the American arm.

Every type of field gun used by the U. S. forces will be brought into play in the all-day maneuvers. Regular army troops, National guard units from Oklahoma and scores of air-men take part. Observers from several foreign countries are here.

A hill will be the objective of the attacking forces. From another hill the victors will view the display. Behind a barrage of live shells, infantry will sweep forward while airplanes will drop bombs.

Death of Mrs. Ila Crawford Neal

BORED HONDURANIANS TURN TO REVOLT

WHY DO THEY HAVE REVOLUTIONS IN HONDURAS? THIS PICTURE IS THE ANSWER. LONELY LITTLE CABINS—ONLY OX-TEAMS FOR JOY RIDES—NO MOVIES. HONDURANIANS FIGHT JUST TO GET A LITTLE FUN OUT OF LIFE.

By BOB DORMAN
 AMAPALA, Honduras, May 26.—Your Honduranian is honest. I traveled alone across 150 miles of mountains to reach the capital I carried things which represented untold wealth to the poor peasant who exists along the way. Yet never was I molested.

I found in the few shacks that did duty as occasional hotels that I could leave my belongings unguarded and unlocked and find them there on my return.

Those I met were ever courteous—ever willing to extend a helping hand to the stranger.

Out of their small stores—stores that were fast dwindling because of the stoppage of transportation due to the revolution—they made me welcome. What they had, they were more than willing to share—and not for gold, because their charges were not exorbitant.

But this also I learned—that politics in Honduras is a serious matter. That's the trouble.

The Honduranian, like most Latin-Americans, thinks of politics in terms of life and death. To him a political enemy is a personal enemy. To him all members of the opposition party are robbers and murderers.

Unlike the Anglo-Saxon who greets war, But he always sold his papers after school at Crystal Springs, Pat attended Louisiana State University, where he studied waited table in the mess hall and pitched baseball. After graduating, he signed up as pitcher for one summer with a semi-professional ball team at Pickens, Miss.

Pat's ability to "cut the plate" verbally, in the Senate, is perhaps the natural evolution of his knack of "putting 'em across" with the horseshoe sphere in those days.

Pat "put 'em across" on "em" and the box on the receiving end needed gloves.

After a brief term in law at Guilford, Harrison was elected to the House of Representatives in 1916. After eight years in the House he moved up to the Senate, taking the seat of James K. Vardaman.

In the Senate he has been the leading Democratic snapper and his skill in puncturing Republican pretension has brought him recognition as one of the keenest tongues of his party—and selection as keynote speaker.

In New York

NEW YORK, May 26.—Horseback riding is not a lost art in New York. A surprising number of riders canter their mounts over the beautiful bridge paths of Central Park every day.

Even in inclement weather many riders, faithful to their hobby, are out.

Many more women than men are to be seen atop prancing steeds. It is a great weight-reducing exercise. Heavy women ride to lose pounds while younger maidens ride because they like to wear the snappy habits.

Romance has its beginning on the bridge paths, when with modern coquetry, professionally modest maidens drop their reins instead of their handkerchiefs at the moment a handsome man gallops past.

Mounted traffic policemen, who patrol the bridge paths, tell me of seeing expert horsemen saved from faked runaways several times a week by sturdy men of athletic bearing.

People in New York always like to do the things considered unusual. I ride twice a week. Back in Indiana, where I was reared, and where horses were as abundant as mosquitoes in New Jersey, I didn't have a speaking acquaintance with a single horse.

There is an office in New York in which five men, all reared in Ohio and Illinois, work. They have lived here for periods ranging from four months to three years.

Each Sunday they go to the office. Not a bit of work is done. They sit around most of the day, recounting interesting things that happened "back home" in the days of yore.

They are a part of New York's melting pot that won't melt.

All of them eventually will return to the West.

They despise New York.

—STEPHEN HANNAGAN.

TODAY'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, May 26.—No better contrast between the Republican and Democratic national conventions can be imagined than that which is typified by the keynote speakers of the two parties.

Cleveland Theodore E. Burton, 73 years of age, dignified, scholarly, will "point with pride" to achievements of the G. O. P. and will open the convention for the nomination of a candidate whose selection already is certain.

But Burton and the convention will deal chiefly with things of the past. It will be an occasion of retrospection.

At New York, however, the future, not the past, will receive chief emphasis. Theodore Burton had been voting the Republican ticket for 10 years when the youngster who will sound the Democratic keynote was born, down at Crystal Springs, Miss.

So it will be but natural that while Burton, from the experience of his 73 years, will be measuring the future by the past, the youngster, of 32, will be enthusiastic and vicer of his comparative youthfulness, will be cheering his party forward to a quest for the gold at the "ambush."

Clearing the contrast between the keynotes and their viewpoints further, Burton never has been blessed with a nickname. Christened Theodore no one ever has had the comeliness to call him "Teddy" or "Tad."

No one on the other hand, ever called Senator Harrison anything but "Pat." Few of his colleagues in the Senate, in fact, know that his name is Pat, as an abbreviation of Patrick, but it is his own personal designation of the political commoner bestowed by his parents—Byron Patton.

Harrison developed his speaking voice during the Spanish-American War when he sold the Memphis Commercial Appeal in his home town.

Pat figured later that he probably killed off the entire Spanish army about three times during that brief war.

MRS. BUSH TELLS OTHER WOMEN

How Pains in Side and Dragging Down Feelings Were Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Massena, N. Y.—"I had terrible pains in both my sides and a dragging-down feeling that affected me so that I could hardly walk, and I got run-down. A friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it and I have taken it with the best results. I do my housework and also some outdoor work on the farm. The Vegetable Compound has given me back my health and I can't praise it enough. I am perfectly willing that you should use these facts if my letter will help other women who still suffer."—Mrs. DEBBIE BUSH, R. F. D. 1, Massena, N. Y.

The spirit of helpfulness shown in the letters we are constantly publishing is worthy of notice.

These women know by experience what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do. Your troubles are the same as theirs. Isn't it reasonable to expect the same results?

If you have pains and a dragging-down feeling and are nervous and irritable, profit by Mrs. Bush's experience and give the Compound a trial.

Mosquitoes Banished by Modern Discovery

Science finally finds way to rid home of all insect pests

Entomologists long have known that mosquitoes, like many other insects, are repelled by certain odors. It has remained, however, for scientists connected with the Dechou Manufacturing Co., Inc., of Richmond, Va., to evolve a preparation that both repels and kills mosquitoes and other pests—surely and economically.

Unlike most other anti-mosquito compounds, Dethol is effective over a wide area. When sprayed in a room or about the front porch, the vapor-like particles of Dethol are carried far and wide by the faintest breeze. Any mosquito within range of this spray is killed at once. And when the death-dealing cloud finally settles to earth, it forms an invisible blanket whose odor warns away other mosquitoes for hours.

Dethol also is particularly effective against flies, roaches, ants, moths, bedbugs, etc. Its penetrating spray searches out the hiding places of these pests and quickly destroys all forms of insect life. It does not stain; and it disinfects.

Many housewives find that Dethol is invaluable, too, in cleaning windows, tubs, tile, marble, etc. Sprayed lightly on these objects Dethol cuts grime and dirt like magic—you simply wipe the sprayed articles clean with a damp rag. Due to the fact that Dethol is a liquid spray, a very little covers a large space, thus making Dethol most economical to use. Full directions on can.

Drug, grocery, hardware and department stores sell Dethol in the handy combination package—complete with sprayer and large can of liquid—for 25c.

You really cannot afford to be without Dethol. If your dealer hasn't Dethol, we will send you the combination package, post free, on receipt of one dollar. Dethol Mfg. Co., Inc., Richmond, Va.

Over Ninety Percent. of Childish Ailments Come From Indigestion

—W. L. Hand.

Indigestion, in children, should be but a very temporary condition. Yet, while it lasts, it congests the liver and bowels, breeds germs and fills the blood with poisons that are the cause of many troubles.

Children's ailments develop suddenly, without much warning, but yield just as quickly to proper treatment. By simultaneous cleansing action of stomach, liver and bowels, my Liv-o-lax, a pleasant-tasting liquid remedy, gives the quick relief that mothers seek, and it saves the use of calomel and castor oil.

Just one trial will convince. Get a 3c bottle. Children love Liv-o-lax and mothers will be delighted with its quick action.

Final Concert Is Given at R. M. I.

The commencement exercises of the Randolph-Macon Institute began with the final concert in the Institute hall last night at 8:15, this being unusually well attended and interesting. This morning at 11 o'clock at the Main Street Methodist church the commencement sermon will be preached by the Rev. William J. Young, D. D., of Emory University, Ga. The baccalaureate address will be made at the final exercises on Tuesday evening in Institute hall by Dr. Henry North, formerly of the Trinity College faculty but now pastor at Rocky Mount, N. C.

Last night's program presented a number of the graduates and other singers and performers in a series of numbers admirably and effectively rendered, and all of the numbers were of a high order of excellence. Among the violin compositions played was one called "Meditation" composed by Messrs. Westbrook and Penn, well known Danville instrumentalists, who, it is understood have dedicated it to a well known violin teacher.

The full program of the concert is herewith given:

Violin Trio Ensemble—Cinq Valses Brillantes—Rhyzia—Misses Martha Adams, Mabel Bradner, Katherine Carter, Katherine Collins, Sallie Cowell, Theodore Estes, Lydia Eskridge, Evelyn Gourley, Helen Sublett, Mabel Williams, Fay Wilson, Virginia Wilkins, Emily Woodard, Pearl Young. Piano—Allegro Moderato—Hummel—Miss Catherine Harwell, Miss McMillan.

ON A DELIGHTFUL TOUR OF EUROPE

P. F. Conway, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Warner Moore, Jr., of Richmond, Va., are enjoying their tour of Europe. They have been here for the last month. Mr. Conway went chiefly for the benefit he hoped to derive from the ocean voyage. The tourists visited Edinburgh and other points of interest in Scotland, then English cities and scenic points and after that crossed to France and headed for the famous French capital, the two gentlemen continued their trip to Italy, while Mrs. Moore remained in Paris and vicinity. The tourists are expected to sail for home about the first week in June, unless they change their plans.

MISS MARGARET GOLD TO BE BRIDE ON JUNE 10

Wedding invitations have been received in Danville reading as follows: "Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gold, request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Howard, to Mr. Albert Lee Smith on Tuesday evening, the 10th of June, at half past 8 o'clock, First Presbyterian church, Greensboro, North Carolina." Miss Gold, the bride-elect, is well known in Danville, where she has many friends. She will be recalled as a bridesmaid at the Moore-Conway wedding in this city. A six-table bridge party in her honor will be given at the home of J. C. Gold on Thursday at her home on Oakwood Court, High Point, N. C.

KNOCKED FROM A TRAIN, IS NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

Walter Collins, a negro employe, was knocked from a freight train, while passing under an overhead bridge just southward of Danville about 7 o'clock last night. He was picked up and conveyed to this city and then sent to Providence hospital for treatment by Dr. E. H. Miller, surgeon for the railway at this point. It was discovered on examination that his injuries are not serious. He was struck on the left side of the face, but seems to have sustained no severe injury in his fall. His hurts were treated and he was reported resting comfortably at the hospital last night when inquiry was made as to his condition.

OLD NEW ENGLAND HOMESTEAD STRIPPED FOR FORD'S MUSEUM

(By The Associated Press.) SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., May 24.—The interior of the Burrill homestead here, the latest historical acquisition of Henry Ford in New England, is being stripped for reassembly in his colonial museum, the Wayside Inn, in Sudbury. Mr. Ford brought the property from C. Walter Burrill.

The house was erected by Ebenezer Burrill, born in 1679, and for many years it was the social center of the town.

The son of the builder, James Burrill, was appointed chief justice of the Rhode Island supreme court in 1816 and later served in the United States Senate. C. Walter Burrill is the grandson of James.

Workmen are carefully removing the handwrought nails, the handwrought floor boards, some 30 inches wide and an inch thick, the red brick of the wainscoting of the rooms. It is possible that the doors, the sills and scribe that in part of the exterior may also be utilized by the Ford museum.

HERE COMES THE BRIDE!

Behold the June bride! She is swathed in chiffon over white satin with a yoke and veil of real Duchess lace. Her skirt is ruffled and falls in a semi-strain. Real orange blossoms are caught in her lace headpiece and fall from her bouquet. The maid of honor also wears a ruffled chiffon gown with sleeves of Chantilly lace and silk roses in pastel shades. The bridesmaids wear bouffant frocks of Chantilly lace over satin joined to light blouses and corsages of flowers. Their hats of white lace braid have wide streamers of pink satin. All set? Then ring out the wedding bells!

BANKERS' ANNUAL CONVENTION ENDS

(By The Associated Press.) NORFOLK, May 24.—The thirtieth annual convention of the Virginia Bankers' Association adjourned here this afternoon after the new president, J. J. Scott, of Bedford, took charge with his new officers and newly elected executive council.

The association took no action on any public question, except that it referred to the incoming committee on federal legislation the consideration of the McFadden bill.

The new executive council was elected as follows: David J. Warden and John R. Kilby, Norfolk; L. A. Booker, Blackstone; L. A. Hoffman, Richmond; J. S. Frigg, Lynchburg; B. Stringfellow, Culpeper; W. D. Duxson, Lynchburg; E. S. Shields, Farmville; A. Aaron Russ, Tazewell and J. J. Lewis, Gloucester.

John R. Hutchison, director of the Extension Service of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, addressed the convention on cooperative marketing of farm products appealing to bankers to cooperate more closely with the farmers.

Time and place of the next convention was left in the hands of the executive council.

SHIPWRIGHTS BUSY BUILDING OIL BURNERS AND CARRIERS

LONDON, May 23.—Lloyd's shipping returns for the first quarter of 1924 show that there are at the present time 35 steamers and motorships each of over 1,000 tons, with a total tonnage of 153,850 tons under construction in the world for the carriage of oil in bulk. Of these tankers, 12 of 14,500 tons are under construction in Great Britain and Ireland.

The tonnage of vessels now building in the world which are to be fitted with internal combustion engines, amounts to 634,712 tons, while the tonnage for steam vessels under construction is 1,501,716 tons. The motor tonnage thus equals 35 1-2 percent of the steam tonnage.

SIX CENT FARE WILL GO INTO EFFECT SOON

(By The Associated Press.)

PETERSBURG, Va., May 24.—A six-cent cash fare with tickets or tokens at five for twenty-five cents, will be effective in Petersburg and Dinwiddie County on the lines of the Virginia Railway and Power Company within ten days. Announcement of this was made here today by Bolling Wilcox, city attorney.

The order for the increased of traction fares on this division of the corporation's electric lines was entered by the commission yesterday in Richmond as the result of a petition recently filed in which it was presented that unless increase revenue was provided the service of the company maintenance of property and the needed expansions to meet progress would be severely handicapped.

BABY ELEPHANT DIES

(By The Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—Mary, the 18 months old baby African elephant, which arrived at the Philadelphia zoo May 7, is dead. She succumbed yesterday to a cold with complications which affected her digestive apparatus. Mary was only thirty-six inches tall and was one of the smallest African elephants in the United States. The skin will be mounted and presented to the American Academy of Natural Sciences in this city.

PLYMOUTH, ENGLAND, MAY 24—

Sir Eustace Pionnes, governor of the Leeward Islands, on a recent visit to England told reporters that he was certain the British West Indian possessions would never be ceded to America for war debt. The sentiment of the people was strongly against such a change of flag, and they were very loyal to Great Britain.

Sir Eustace said also that despite the commercial loss occasioned by the war and four successive years of drought, the future outlook of the islands was excellent.

YEGGMEN MAKE LIGHT HAUL AT PETERSBURG

(By The Associated Press.)

PETERSBURG, Va., May 24.—Yeggmens, believed to be professional, blew the safe in the post office in K. D. Bousseau's store at Ford and escaped with $250 in stamps and money without leaving a clue as to their identity according to word reaching this city today.

Nitroglycerine was used by the robbers in opening the safe, they making a neat job of their work. The explosive was not heard by persons living in the neighborhood so cleverly did the crackmen smother the blast with goods stolen from the store. The only clues left by the yeggs were two wires left attached to the safe door and with which the explosion was set off.

RIVER TRANSPORTATION IN YUKON AIDED BY LAKE MARSH DAM

(By The Associated Press.)

DAWSON, Y. T., May 24.—Steamboat transportation between White Horse and Dawson is expected to be opened a month earlier this year by means of a large dam which is being rushed to completion at the foot of Lake Marsh, 26 miles south of White Horse. When the project is finished the water will be impounded and turned through the shallow Thirty-Mile River between Lake Marsh and Lave Lebarge, thence down the Lewis River into the Yukon River.

At White Horse, 300 miles southeast of Dawson, the steamers connect with the White Horse and Yukon Railway, which crosses the front "Skagway" Alaska. The Yukon River system above here also reaches the Mayo silver mining district, 300 miles east of Dawson.

Chatham

CHATHAM, May 24.—The week has been wet but a good start has been made in planting the tobacco crop and every farmer that had any land and hills ready has that much planted, and from best indications the quantity planted will range around about 20 per cent. of the crop. A large quantity of fertilizer had been hauled from this place but on Friday the dealers here were busy during the day delivering and the prospects are that a large acreage will be planted. The idea of planting cotton is taking root in the county and in the Dry Fork neighborhood, a large acreage will be planted this season. Last year it was tried out in the Dry Fork section and results were so pleasing that the acreage will be very much increased. The wheat and grass crops are pretty good and comes in well as it will save buying feed for stock.

Extended Term of Court.

The regular May term of Pittsylvania county circuit court will adjourn until the ninth of June, this being done to give farmers time to get their tobacco planted. The civil docket will be called when court convenes on that date.

The closing exercises will begin at the Chatham High School on Monday night to continue through Wednesday night. The commencement contest of the Chatham Training School on Saturday night and on Sunday morning at the Baptist church, Rev. John Vines, of Roanoke, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

The closing exercises will continue through Wednesday night. The school this year has passed through a very gratifying year and indications for the next year are very promising.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hargrave, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jefferson and Mrs. T. J. Gray returned this week from attending the Baptist General Association in Atlanta.

Social Affair.

A very brilliant reception was at the home of Mrs. H. B. Hardaway on Friday afternoon, the occasion being in honor of Mrs. L. H. Kerfoot, who is soon to leave Chatham to make her home near Berryville, Virginia. Mrs. Kerfoot is the wife of the late Rev. F. W. Kerfoot, for several years pastor of the Chatham Baptist church and her many friends wished to give expression to their high regard for her and their regret at her leaving Chatham.

Both the Planters Bank and Trust Company and the Chatham Savings Bank are now installing the latest improved safes for their new buildings which are under course of erection. Some time will yet be required to complete the buildings but nothing is being spared to make them both attractive and a credit to the institutions and the town.

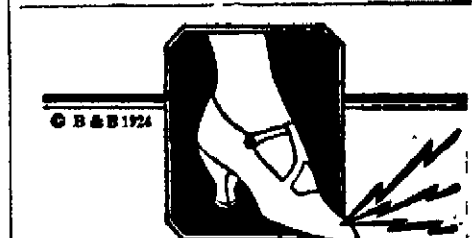

Work on the improved highway from this place to Gretna is now being whipped into shape and with good weather will be ready for travel by July first. Bridges now being put across the streams and when completed will be one of the best pieces of road in Pittsylvania county.

PAINTERS GIVEN DOUBLE WAGE IN RESTORATION OF TOKYO

TOKIO, May 24.—Nearly all classes of skilled labor are receiving higher pay during the reconstruction period in Tokio, but none have profited more than the painters.

Before the great earthquake and fire of September 1, the Japanese were noted for the lack of paint outside and inside their houses. With the construction of thousands of temporary buildings, however, mostly of lumber, there has been a great increase in the use of paint.

Painters are now paid as high as 8 yen a day, approximately double their pre-quake wages. Carpenters and masons also share in the reconstruction prosperity but to a smaller degree, their wages averaging about 5 yen a day.

A THOUGHT

If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small.—Prov. 24:10.

Much dearer be the things that come through hard distress.—Spenser.

NOBODY IS FOOLED

No person is being fooled by the crude maneuvers at Washington to deceive the public into thinking that the government means to permit the United States to cooperate in the administration of world justice through adhesion to a world court.

Senator Lodge with his "irreconcilables" is adopting the same tactics as he used against the Versailles Treaty. He has recommended an impossible plan, knowing that it will not be acceptable. Senator Pepper with his intellectual skill, is backing an equally impossible scheme. The so-called Harding-Hughes plan of taking the world court without the League is plainly an attempt to woo the support of the Lodges which cannot be wooed for anything.

What Washington needs to realize is that no good will come either to peace or to world justice by considering that senators of the Lodge type exist and that any plan short of desirable effectiveness.

But the damning thing of it all is that another effort is being made to play politics with the peace of the world. That was the shame of the fight against Woodrow Wilson and the treaty he brought back. It was not the treaty its enemies were fighting; it was the man who brought it back from Paris. It was not the imperfections in the covenant. It was that its adoption might bring credit to its apostle that the few senators that day by methods strikingly similar to the present ones, stood against it. And it may be assumed now that Lodge sees the absurdity of America's remaining outside the League and its Court, but refuses to admit it because of the personal humiliation it would mean to his bigotry.

For years the statesmen at Washington have been trying to find a substitute for the method that Woodrow Wilson proposed the United States should follow to play a sovereign part in the stabilization of world affairs. They have failed. Failing they have sought to cover up their delinquency with this suggestion and that formula. It has not convinced the public. The people know now better than ever the soundness of the Wilson foreign policy and no present-day attempts to confuse them on this question will fool the public. Back to the policy they once rejected is the most honorable and effective course the bunglers can follow.

AN INTERNATIONAL PROBLEM

When the United States first put into force its radical limitation of immigration and then as the years passed continued to further reduce immigration quotas the question arose in this country and abroad, what will become of Europe's surplus population with the lid lowering on the great "melting pot"? The question is being answered at the immigration conference of 35 nations at Rome.

Rome is the appropriate meeting place for the conference because Italy is the one European country where emigration is a major economic and social problem. In the decade between 1901 and 1910 the number of Italian immigrants entering the United States was 2,045,000. From Austria-Hungary came 2,145,000 and from Russia 1,377,000. But there is no longer an Austria-Hungary, and there is no longer, in any real sense, a Russia.

Emigration will probably flow much less copiously from the source Mussolini's Italy, cherishing ambitions in the political and economic sphere, will take a different view of what constitutes "surplus" population. Industrial development has been rapid in the heart of Southern Europe, and Italy may get herself completely

BRINGING FOREST TO FIRESIDE

London cables an enthusiastic report of a remarkable feat of radio broadcasting. "A nightingale sang in a moonlit Surrey thicket, and all England heard the song." The notes of the bird were caught in a microphone and carried by a land line to London, whence they were given to the ether and received clearly not only in Great Britain but also on the continent.

It was a creditable achievement, but no more so than the feat of scientists at the Pennsylvania State College recently in transmitting by radio to thousands of listeners the rattle of a rattlesnake.

DRAPES BRANCH, May 25.—(Graphic) The drapes are being changed, in a way, by the new (old) question injected into the local campaign by H. C. Ficklen, independent candidate for the common council. In a clear statement which all who run may read unmistakably, Mr. Ficklen propounds a hypothetical question involving the extension of Danville's corporate lines. He answers affirmatively and calls on all the other candidates to declare themselves. He carefully explains the procedure and adjures the new council to initiate the movement, leaving the decision to the solemn judgment of a duly constituted commission. In other words, he desires to test out and settle the question for all time. We will now see what the candidates are going to do about it.

Young Hogan's Kid Brother

HIS BROTHER'S WIFE

by RUBY AYRES
A NEW SERVICE

SYNOPSIS

The marriage of Dolly and Nigel Bretherton proves to be unhappy. When war is declared, Nigel is glad to enlist. He leaves Dolly in the care of Mary Farnival, Nigel's sister. Dolly and Nigel are sweethearts and sails with him for America.

When Nigel's brother, David, calls to see Nigel's widow, Mary is ashamed to tell him of Dolly's marriage. David mistakes Mary for Nigel's wife and takes her to live at Red Grange with his aunt.

Mary is happy in her new home until Monty Fisher exposes her to David. Mary runs away. She meets an acquaintance, named Evans, who tells her that David is searching for her. Mary is run over by a cab and is taken to a hospital.

Now go on with the story.

The nurse, a kind-faced, elderly woman, told him that Mary's injuries were more serious than they had at first supposed.

"Her friends ought to be told," she said, a trifle curtly. "If you know where they are, it is your duty to tell them."

Evans answered with some show of temper. He said he knew no more than she did, that he had no idea where she was living, or with whom.

"And you are no relation yourself?"

"None—I am only a friend."

Her face softened a little at something pathetic in his voice and eyes.

"Well, I'm sorry," she said more kindly, "because I am afraid she is in a very bad way."

"Oh, I don't say that; but the doctor seemed very dissatisfied this morning. Perhaps you can call again during the day."

Evans said he certainly would do so; he went to the office with dragging steps.

He sat, neglecting his work, staring before him with worried eyes. The girl typist who worked next to him asked once or twice what was the matter. Evans roused himself with a start.

"Nothing—nothing."

But he could not keep his mind on his work. Once, when he was taking down letters for Fisher, his mind wandered, and he forgot answer: Fisher spoke to him sharply.

"Where in the world are your thoughts, Evans?"

In his lunch-hour he raced back to the hospital.

Mary's condition was unchanged. He dragged through the long day drearily, and evening saw him once more anxiously inquiring for her. This time the answer was more grave.

"She is not so well."

He went away, feeling horribly guilty. If she died, the Brethertons would never forgive him. If she lived, well, if she lived, she could never be anything to him; he was but laying up trouble for himself.

He walked about the streets till it was quite late. He had no tea, but that he forgot. He was amazed to find that his steps had led him to the Fishers' house. He found himself standing outside, staring up at its lighted windows.

He walked past, and came back again reluctantly. Should he go in or not? He shrank from doing so, and yet—

He hesitated, with his eyes on the brass knocker, that gleamed in the light of a street lamp directly opposite.

Suddenly he squared his shoulders resolutely, walked up the steps to the front door, and rang the bell.

Compulsory Athletics.

This morning's paper (the morning on which this is being written) carried a picture of President Coolidge throwing a baseball. If this picture is evidence that he is training as a baseball pitcher on the celer champion team of the girl's league. When I saw it I decided not to vote for Cal, not being an admirer of baseball as played by girls. Then I took up a copy of "Nation's Health" and read there an article by H. R. Curtis, on compulsory athletics. When I read it I got back on the fence again. Cal still has a chance, maybe only a Chinese chance, to get my vote. Curtis says baseball, as played by the girls, is a more wholesome game than the game as men play it. In the men's game the pitcher works very hard, the catcher almost as hard, but the balance of the players are loafers. They do not get enough exercise to keep in condition. When they are in the field, the basemen and fielders have nothing to do, and when they have their inning eight of the nine at any given moment have no other occupation than strolling and gossiping. Unless they take outside exercise, a fielder or basemen is too short-winded to run bases.

Not so in a girls' game. The pitcher may hit the third baseman when she tries to put them over and all the hit balls may be fouls, but every player is in the game all the time. Curtis uses girls' baseball as a text for an article on compulsory athletics. In his opinion, one trouble with us in athletics is that we follow the policy of letting or having the other fellow do it.

Athletics should be compulsory in every school, college, and university. Every pupil should be required to play some game. Compulsory games should be basketball, football, tennis, and volleyball. As I understand it, not student is required to play all these games, but every student is required to develop a certain degree of capability in playing some one on the list.

Curtis would have competitive games take the place of gymnasium work as it is now done in school. These games should have hours set apart for them on the day's schedule. Each student should be graded on his work in some one or more competitive games.

It is found that 90 per cent. of the exercise older people get is walking. Therefore, walking should form part of the schedule for students in schools, colleges, and universities. Every high school should have at least 10 acres of ground around it in order that there may be ample room for games. What matters is that this requirement will force many schools to be located in the outskirts of town. Every school child should walk at least one mile to get to school. The necessary walking to and from school is excellent exercise and badly needed.

Operation Unnecessary.

Baby Sleeps Too Much

Mrs. J. E. K. writes:

1. What could be the matter with my eight months old baby, for she has never slept all night through? She is up every hour or two, which makes me all tired and nervous when the morning arrives. Is there something wrong with her, or is it because she sleeps during the day after every two hours?

2. She has a bumble under arm, which is hard and red. What causes this?

REPLY

1. She has too much in the day to begin with. Lessen her hours of day sleeping and do not let her sleep at night.

2. Probably an infected gland. The source of infection is or was probably on the hand of arm.

MRS. LOWMEYER RETAINS TITLE
(By The Associated Press.)
CHATTANOOGA, May 24.—Mrs. Dwyer Lowmeyer formerly southern women's golf champion, today regained the title by defeating Miss Rosalie Mayer of Atlanta, 8 up and 2 to go in the final of the 13th annual tournament of the southern women's golf tournament. Mrs. Lowmeyer succeeds Mrs. Gaut to Memphis.

TIDLER TORE LIGAMENT IN KNEE YESTERDAY
(By The Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—William T. Tidler, 11, national tennis champion, tore a ligament in his knee when he fell on a rainsoaked court during a match with Vincent Richards in the final of the 13th annual tennis tournament here today.

The seriousness of the injury has been determined but it is felt it will keep him from the game for several weeks.

The accident occurred in a tense moment in the match. Rain had started to fall. Richards sent a hard ball. Tidler swung hard, lost his footing and fell. For several minutes he made no effort to rise and when he did get up he limped from the court. The match was not finished.

BARNES INELIGIBLE
(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 24.—Jim Barnes is ineligible to compete in the qualifying round of the United States open golf championship, the Eastern Division of which opens in Worcester, Mass., on Tuesday, today by his Professional Golfers' Association to which Barnes had appealed his case after the rejection of his entry by the U. S. Golf Association, due to the late arrival.

WOMAN'S TOURNEY CLOSING
(By The Associated Press.)
ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 24.—Miss Dean Van Landingham, of Charlotte, carried off top honors in the annual women's Carolina golf tournament which closed today at the Asheville Country Club. She was forced to go 20 holes to defeat Miss Edna Hirsch, of Raleigh, in a match which was marked with spectacular plays.

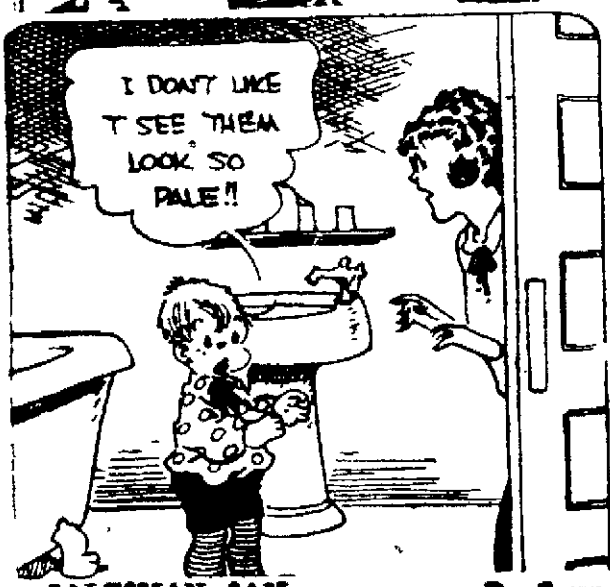

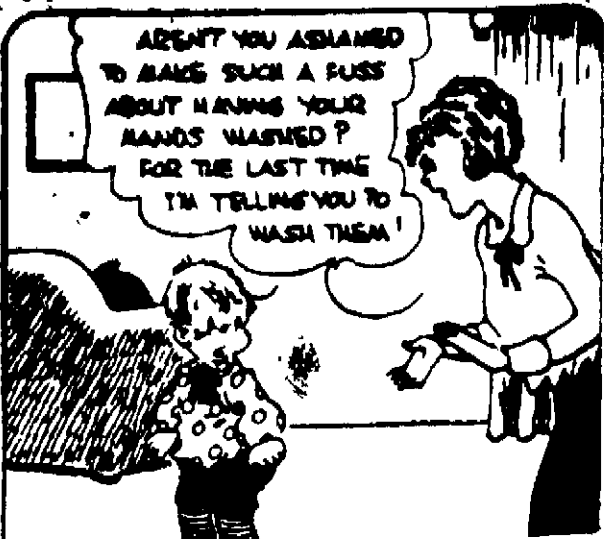

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

GIANTS BEAT REDS AND RETAINS LEAD
CINCINNATI, May 25.—New York retained the lead in the league race by winning the final game of the series from Cincinnati here today by a score of 6 to 1. Rixey allowed only three hits in seven innings, but was taken out during the seventh by a pinch hitter and Harp was pounded hard in the ninth. Barnes pitched great ball after the first round.

"MAYTIME" ONE OF THE YEAR'S BEST

The stage piece has played more than six years but we do not hesitate to predict that the photo-drama made from it will surpass even this popularity record. The film taken as a whole achieves such a quality of excellence that it is difficult to say which element deserves the most praise—the story, the cast, the direction or the staging. The plot touches the depths of sentiment and romance while it is charged with dramatic action. Its originality is striking as it passes through four different periods, from the picturesque hoop skirts of 1865 to the daring fashions of 1923—from the old-fashioned girls of grandmother's youth to the gold-digging daughters of today. This photoplay will be the attraction at the Broadway Thursday and

WHO WILL REFEREE CARPENTIER FIGHT

Three Men Are Under Consideration: Selection Will Be Made Monday
(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, May 24.—Selection of a referee for the fight between Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul and Georges Carpentier, French light-heavyweight, to be held in Michigan City, Indiana, next Saturday afternoon, will be made Monday.

Three men are under consideration and are: Edward W. Dickerson, of Grand Rapids, Michigan; Matt Hinkel and Tommy Mignity, both of Cleveland. They were agreed upon by Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, Jack Curley, American representative of the Frenchman, and Floyd Fitzsimmons, match maker of the syndicate promoting the contest.

It was announced today that the Carpentier-Gibbons bout would be preceded by four preliminaries, the first of which will start at 2 p. m. Carpentier, after a two day lay off, engaged in a training exhibition at an amusement park here this afternoon, going through his training routine, with the exception of boxing. He appears to be well-conditioned, finely trained and to all appearance ready to face Gibbons. He said he was six pounds heavier than three years ago when he fought Dempsey and he probably would weigh about 175 pounds for Gibbons.

While Carpentier was in Chicago, Gibbons was putting in a busy day at his Michigan City camp. After long hike on the road he played golf and boxed out of doors, although the weather was so cool that overcoats were needed.

Fishing, Hunting Robinson's Sports

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Joseph Taylor Robinson, Arkansas senator, and possible Democratic nominee for president, arises early and starts for the capitol about.

On his way he always stops to talk with children he meets. He has no youngsters of his own, but he loves them all.

After the morning at his desk in the Senate office building, he eats lunch in the Senate dining room and attends the session of the Senate. After the session, he usually likes, motors or plays golf. Evenings he is home reading. Seldom does he go to the theater or to social affairs.

Robinson's hobby is fishing. Week-ends find him at Chesapeake Beach. Not infrequently he disappears from Washington for a few days of camping, hunting and fishing.

A Single Bullet Killed Them!

Moonshiners are blamed for the double murder of Harry Ganster and his fiancée, Leah Ellenberger, in the mountains near Marysville, Pa. The two, sweethearts since childhood, had gone into the mountains to pick wild flowers. This picture shows the way their car was found, with the girl dead at the steering wheel. Ganster's body had fallen from the car. One bullet had killed both.

DANISH CONSERVATIVES OBJECT TO NEW FOREIGN MINISTER
(By The Associated Press.)
COPENHAGEN, May 24.—King Christian has cut short his holiday and returned to Copenhagen in order to give his royal sanction to Denmark's first labor cabinet.
The Conservatives are drawing attention to the anomaly in the voting which showed that although the Labor party only secured 38 per cent of the votes cast, they are placed in power over representatives of parties which claimed 62 per cent of the votes.
The conservatives are also strongly criticizing the action of Premier Stauning in selecting Count Moltke as foreign minister. They allege that Moltke is known to have extreme German sympathies and that these are shared by his wife, thus making it difficult to settle the Danish-German frontier equibbles satisfactorily.

Everyman's Investments

By GEORGE T. HUGHES

Twenty-second Article
Caution To Small Investors.

One rule of sound investment which many people overlook is that, the smaller your capital the more conservative must be your securities. I am often told that this or that investor must have a large return because his capital is so small. Now, exactly the opposite is true. The small investor cannot afford to look for a large return. He must have above everything else security of principal. He cannot afford to take chances, no matter how small because he cannot sufficiently diversify his list. Moreover, the large capitalist is in a position, where if one or two of his commitments prove unsatisfactory it is a matter of only minor importance. The same things might prove a disaster to the small investor. It follows that what may be a good investment for one man may be strictly unsuitable for another. A widow with no experience in financial affairs and entirely out of touch with business conditions requires a different investment list from a man actively engaged in trade. This is especially the case when the widow is entirely dependent upon the income from her securities. She has, however, one compensation in that her marketability is a secondary matter. The business man must have securities for which there is a ready sale as a conceivable matter might need the money at any time for use in his business. Or he might want to borrow upon his stocks or bonds at the bank and banks loan money only on securities with a ready market. The widow on the hand requires only a steady and assured income. She can afford therefore to take a bond or mortgage not so readily saleable and other things being equal a slightly higher return can be obtained from the security with a less active market. Every investor should make perfectly plain his or her own exact financial situation to the investment banker or investment adviser. In just the same way as he or she should in his doctor or his lawyer. In this way investments can be suggested which meet the need of the particular individual.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

Thomson & McKinnon.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Before the day is over we will probably have a tax bill out of Congress, ready for the president's signature. Will the president sign it? He will, because the public wants it. It reduces taxes and that is reason enough. What will be the effect on the stock market? It automatically increases the value of dividend-paying stocks through the increased value of the dividend—what the larger new return. So the market, wherever there is a sale of the dividend adds to the base value of the stocks but it does not alter the trend of value. The trend will be up or down in line with earnings. Business at the present time does not warrant an upward trend. No less an authority than the secretary of the treasury assured us that the tax rate fixed on large incomes is not low enough to divert capital from tax free bonds into the channels of trade. Therefore as soon as the market has adjusted itself to this law, plus a reduction in the short interest, the trend's irresistible power will again be encountered.

The REFEREE

BY ALBERT APPLE.

DIAMONDS

South African diamond mines are working again after being almost entirely shut down for several years. This means that the world is steadily recovering from the business depression caused by the war. When people begin to sport diamonds, they have money to spare.

Diamond headquarters in Kimberley reports that the revival of the diamond industry is chiefly due to demand for the cheaper or medium-grade stones. Indicating prosperity at the base.

FOOTBALL

Is college football becoming too commercialized? One university's profits from this sport last year were about $40,000. College heads are wondering if football isn't shaping as a business rather than an athletic game.

Professionalism in the boxoffice is as much a menace as professionalism among players. Sport for sport's sake is endangered when the sport becomes a medium for tapping the public pocketbook.

LEGACY

A laundry wagon driver, inherits $50,000 in Trenton, N. J. He announces he'll keep on working. Which excites amazement, but shouldn't.

The $50,000 at 4 per cent. interest would bring the driver $2000 a year. He couldn't do much with that, prices so high. Time was when $50,000 was a whale of a fortune.

The house of the owner was pointed out with the buggy whip to visitors being driven around town. Those days are gone. Even a millionaire doesn't excite much interest now, they're so numerous.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 26.—Prices moved within narrow and irregular limits at the opening of today's market, with an upward tendency in evidence. Moderate gains were scored by most of the industrial leaders with the exception of American Woolen which declined 2-4. Lackawanna moved up a point and pan-American issues again advanced. The market was characterized by speculative proceeds at a more rapid pace in later transactions, than the forward movement being added by indications that the House of Representatives would pass the tax bill today. Accumulation of the coalers causing advance of 1-2 to 2 points in Lackawanna, Delaware and Hudson and Norfolk and Western exerted a tonic effect on the rest of the list. Sharp fractional gains were registered by some of the oils. Independent steels, leather and chemical issues. Producers and Refiners moved up 1-3-8 and Congoleum advanced a point. Western Pacific common and preferred stocks both established new 1924 top prices at 20-1-4 and 66 respectively. The latter quotation representing a gain of more than a point. Wilson and Company preferred, and Kelly-Springfield six per cent. preferred, dropped a point each to the year's low levels. St. Paul issues also were heavy, the preferred dropping 1-2. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, May 26.—The cotton market experienced an active but irregular opening, first trades showing gains of 7 to 36 points. July advanced to 29.22 and the opening call and October rose to 26.18 or 29 to 48 points above the previous close. While prices soon eased off to 19 to 23 points they promptly rallied again practically to the highest. Liverpool cables were much better than due and rather heavy rain were reported in Texas and elsewhere in the belt and a condition average of 68.10 indicating a crop of 19,500,000 bales were issued by a prominent authority. Notice for 3,000 bales May delivery have been issued so far. It is expected that all notices will be promptly stopped.

MORNING COTTON LETTER

NEW YORK, May 26.—Cables

strong. South had scattered showers with normal temperatures. Weather not as cool as expected. Forecast eastern belt fair, western and central belts local showers.

Worth Street goods market on Saturday was strong with sales of 75,000 pieces of print cloths.

The expectations of a bullish condition report is the factor that is stimulating purchases. Manchester reports a rather indifferent business last week and more curtailment is reported from Fall River.

The market is likely to work still higher in the process of discounting a low government figure next Monday.
